Acknowledgments

- 2 The Environmental Protection Agency would like to acknowledge the many individual and organizational
- 3 contributors to this document, without whose efforts this report would not be complete. Although the complete list
- 4 of researchers, government employees, and consultants who have provided technical and editorial support is too
- 5 long to list here, EPA's Office of Atmospheric Programs would like to thank some key contributors and reviewers
- 6 whose work has significantly improved this year's report.
- Work on fuel combustion and industrial process emissions was led by Leif Hockstad and Jonathan Lubetsky. Work
- 8 on methane emissions from the energy sector was directed by Lisa Hanle. Calculations for the waste sector were
- 9 led by Melissa Weitz. Work on agriculture sector emissions was directed by Tom Wirth and Kathryn Bickel. Tom
- Wirth led the preparation of the chapter on Land Use, Land-Use Change, and Forestry. Work on emissions of
- HFCs, PFCs, and SF<sub>6</sub> was directed by Deborah Ottinger and Dave Godwin. John Davies directed the work on
- mobile combustion.

- Within the EPA, other Offices also contributed data, analysis and technical review for this report. The Office of
- 14 Transportation and Air Quality and the Office of Air Quality Planning and Standards provided analysis and review
- 15 for several of the source categories addressed in this report. The Office of Solid Waste and the Office of Research
- and Development also contributed analysis and research.
- 17 The Energy Information Administration and the Department of Energy contributed invaluable data and analysis on
- 18 numerous energy-related topics. The U.S. Forest Service prepared the forest carbon inventory, and the Department
- 19 of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service and the Natural Resource Ecology Laboratory at Colorado State
- 20 University contributed leading research on nitrous oxide and carbon fluxes from soils.
- 21 Other government agencies have contributed data as well, including the U.S. Geological Survey, the Federal
- Highway Administration, the Department of Transportation, the Bureau of Transportation Statistics, the Department
- of Commerce, the National Agricultural Statistics Service, the Federal Aviation Administration, and the Department
- of Defense.
- We would also like to thank Marian Martin Van Pelt, Randall Freed, and their staff at ICF Consulting's Energy
- Policy and Programs Practice, including John Venezia, Don Robinson, Diana Pape, Susan Asam, Michael Grant,
- 27 Ravi Kantamaneni, Robert Lanza, Chris Steuer, Lauren Flinn, Kamala Jayaraman, Dan Lieberman, Jeremy
- 28 Scharfenberg, Daniel Karney, Zephyr Taylor, Beth Moore, Mollie Averyt, Sarah Shapiro, Carol Wingfield, Brian
- Gillis, Zachary Schaffer, Vineet Aggarwal, Colin McGroarty, Hemant Mallya, Lauren Pederson, Erin Fraser, Joseph
- Herr, Victoria Thompson, and Toby Mandel for synthesizing this report and preparing many of the individual
- 31 analyses. Eastern Research Group, RTI International, Raven Ridge Resources, and Arcadis also provided
- 32 significant analytical support.

Preface

1

- 2 The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) prepares the official U.S. Inventory of Greenhouse Gas
- 3 Emissions and Sinks to comply with existing commitments under the United Nations Framework Convention on
- 4 Climate Change (UNFCCC). Under decision 3/CP.5 of the UNFCCC Conference of the Parties, national
- 5 inventories for UNFCCC Annex I parties should be provided to the UNFCCC Secretariat each year by April 15.
- 6 In an effort to engage the public and researchers across the country, the EPA has instituted an annual public review
- 7 and comment process for this document. The availability of the draft document is announced via Federal Register
- 8 Notice and is posted on the EPA web site.<sup>2</sup> Copies are also mailed upon request. The public comment period is
- 9 generally limited to 30 days; however, comments received after the closure of the public comment period are
- accepted and considered for the next edition of this annual report.
